

EGREJOB FINAL EVENT

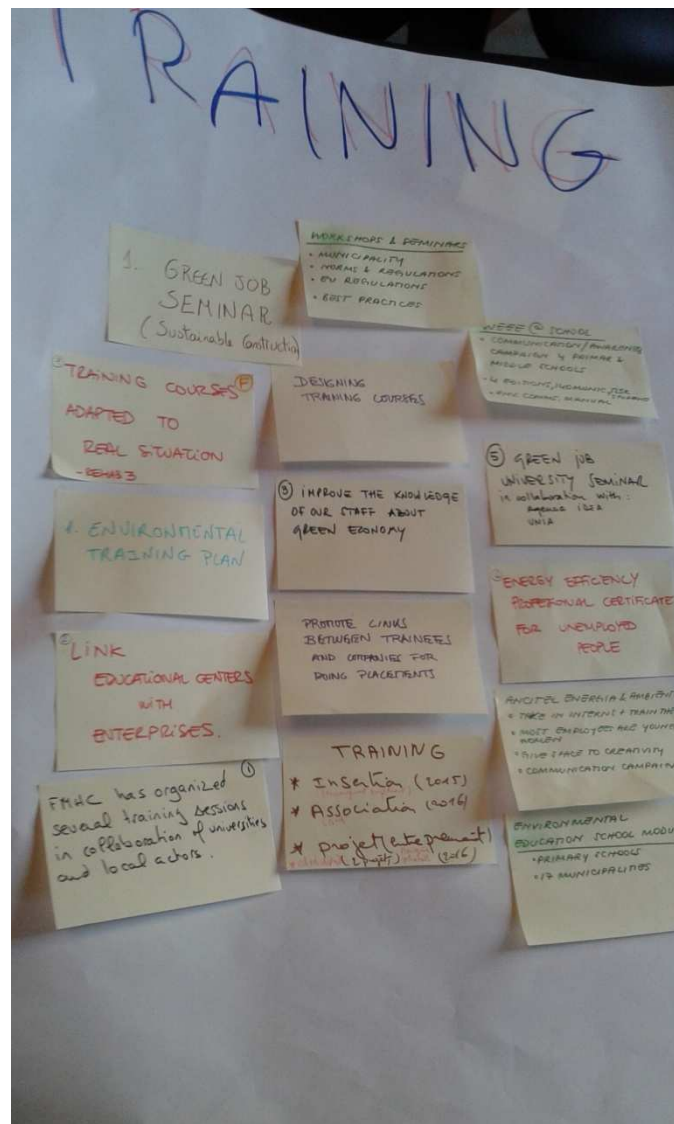

3 March 2016

EGREJOB PROJECT'S LEGACY: PRACTICES AND VALUES

REPORT

The goal of this parallel session was to favour the meeting of the signatories of the Green Jobs Charter, to discuss the actions to be carried out according to the contents of the Charter, to draft a common Action Plan that will define the future activities to be carried out beyond the end of Egrejob Project. The aim of the working groups is to reflect on how to give practical effect to the green job chart. In particular, participants have been asked to confirm or change and modify the organizational model of the Green Jobs Charter. This is why the organization of the working day was divided in two main session.

During the afternoon session, participants were divided into two working groups. The goal of the two working tables was that of producing ideas and proposals for future joint projects in the field of training and exchange in the field of green jobs. This has been a fruitful discussion that brought about several proposals. Among the many proposals, the two project ideas shared among all the participants in the two dimensions (training and exchange) are the following:

- in what regards training, the working table agreed on the proposal to formulate a future project on training already employed people to make their jobs green jobs. Egrejob project has trained young people who are currently entering in the labor market. This project proved to be very effective in what regards the innovation of products and procedure in productive chains. We should now then look at people already employed in these productive chains to adapt and update their skills and knowledge to the innovative elements of green economy. This further project can be an evolution of Egrejob and train employees in the public and/or private sector providing them with soft skills. This would enable organizations to bring innovation in their processes due to a better awareness and knowledge of their personnel in what regards green economy

- in what regards exchange, the participants in the working group decided to maintain and strengthen the network created through the Egrejob project. This goal will be pursued through several tools. Among them there are the creation of a Platform, and of a LinkedIn group. The working group decided to schedule periodic meetings online and to promote exchange visits among partners.

Among the results of the working groups, there is the decision to maintain and strengthen the network created through Egrejob project and whose members are: Egrejob partners, ETEC members, signatories of Green Jobs Charter. This is why the participants took the decision to create a LinkedIn group as a mean to maintain the network and keep on cooperating on the formulation of new projects for the future. The URL of the group is the following: <https://www.linkedin.com/groups/8506198>.
